Practice Overview

Sarah Lee KC specializes in Competition, Regulatory Law, EU and Public Law. She is a qualified Mediator and is registered by the Civil Mediation Council

Sarah advises commercial parties in relation to State aid and subsidies, resale price maintenance and facets of abuse of dominance/regulatory pricing conditions, including price controls along with issues relating to margin squeeze, price discrimination and tying. She has a particular interest in trade and trade remedy related matters, along with telecommunications and utilities. She is experienced in commercial and regulatory judicial review and in private damages actions. Sarah has acted for BT on a stream of regulatory challenges, including a successful challenge to a price control and to a non-SMP condition (at each stage, from the Competition Appeal Tribunal up to the Supreme Court).

She is familiar with a wide range of industries, including telecommunications, farming, energy, pharmaceuticals, insurance and public procurement and has a wide Commercial Law background. She undertakes both advisory and advocacy work for private and public clients.

Competition & regulatory

Sarah Lee KC undertakes advocacy and advisory work in all aspects of Competition Law and economic regulation and the overlap between them. She has a specific interest in trade and trade remedies and has recently co-hosted a webinar series on the topic. She has been instructed in a full range of competition law cases including Art 101/102 damages claims, collective actions, State aid damages cases and State aid in broadband (before the General Court of the EU), State aid cases in the High Court, public procurement in relation to Structural Funds grant cases and in ICC arbitrations. Her regulatory practice includes acting for British Telecommunications in a number of high-profile cases challenging Ofcom decisions, as well as providing advice in relation to telecommunications damages claims and telecommunications commercial agreements. She was involved in the BT v Ofcom 0845 Conditions case at all stages in BT's successful challenge, from the Competition Appeal Tribunal to the Supreme Court, and in the successful overturning of a price control condition in relation to Mobile Call Termination rates.
